Tricks of Trade. The danger to the public from the indiscrim-inate use of the many lime and alum baking powders of commerce has been so fully exposed that everybody desires to avoid them. As "forewarned is forcarmed," housekeepers will thank us for apprising them of the special efforts at present being made to dispose of such powders in this vicinity.

The proprietors of some of these impure powders are now going from house to house, trying by means of a trick, or so-called test with heat and water, to show that their article is better than the one found in use in the house, the object being of course, to supply their own goods in place of those which housekeepers have for so many years relied upon to puff up the morning biscuit, and to make the light, palatable and wholesome roll, cake and pastry.

The housekeeper will do well to be on her guard against these baking powder tramps, Every intelligent person knows that any goods peddled from house to house in this manner, or that are given away in samples or sought to be introduced by secretly traducing the char-acter of other goods well known to be pure and reliable, have no merits of their own, and have failed to find purchasers through legitimate means.—(Baltimore News.)
